VOL. LIX: No. 35 REDWOOD CITY, CALIFORNIA SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1919 ESTABLISHED 1859

CONGRESSMAN HUGH L. HERSMAN VIEWED PROPOSED WHARF SITE

Congressman Hugh L. Hersman was here yesterday and with a committee from the Board of Town Trustees and members of the Chamber of Commerce consisting of Mayor Carl K. Mabie, Frank Towne, M. J. Knox, D. R. Stafford and J. Hedge, made a trip to the Peninsula Dock and Warehouse property and down the creek to deep water. Mr. Hersman expressed himself as to the need of an appropriation to widen and dredge Redwood Creek from its mouth to the Peninsula dock saying that it was a splendid project and one that should receive the encouragement of every one. He pledged himself to make a determined effort to secure the necessary appropriation at the coming session of congress to do this much needed improvement.

Mr. Hersman leaves for Washington next Monday to be at the opening of the session next week. Mr. Hersman is going to work hard for a big appropriation. When he arrives at the capital he will set the necessary machinery in motion to have engineers make a proper survey of the creek. Mr. Hersman believes he will be able to secure the appropriation this session.

A splendid offer to provide Redwood City with a municipal wharf and with warehouse facilities with practically no initial expense for construction work, has just been made by S. H. Frank & Co. The offer, which was tentatively laid before the directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday by Frank Marcus, vice-president of the concern and Henry Steinberger, the manager, consists of donating to the city the property recently acquired by the company at the foot of Main street and formerly owned by W. C. Graves, head of the Peninsula Dock and Warehouse Company.

The property consists of some three acres of valuable land, an immense warehouse, office building, wharfs and docking facilities. The land and improvements are estimated to be worth close to $35,000.

The offer of the company was enthusiastically received by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce and the tender will be placed before the body of the Chamber at an early date. Should the organization decide in favor of the proposition, the matter will then be put up to the city trustees with the necessary recommendations for acceptance of the company's offer.

In line with this a spur track would be constructed within a reasonable time, to connect the proposed municipal wharf with the Southern Pacific tracks, so as to provide shipping facilities for factories.

THIEF CACHE AT WOODSIDE FOUND

The sheriff's office made a big discovery of thefts at Woodside on Wednesday.

Mr. Williams, the Palo Alto agent for the Studebaker automobile, went to Woodside on that day looking for parts of his machine that had been stolen some time before. He happened into the old Neuman store that was soon to be opened by Mr. Foster as a garage. He at once saw the stolen goods. He carted them home and a few hours afterwards notified the sheriff's office here. W. H. Lampkin on entering the place discovered the Studebaker automobile that was stolen from M. F. Duff at Menlo Park last summer. The deputy sheriff also found stolen tubes, tires and other accessories valued at $2000.

At least six burglaries can be traced to this garage. Foster immediately departed when he was accused by Williams and cannot be found. He has had a good start of the officers and may not be apprehended. Foster was employed at the Stanford Garage at Palo Alto last summer when the Duff machine was there for repairs. The day after the returning of the machine it was stolen from the owner's garage at the Duff home on the highway. Foster is a new comer at Woodside. It is said he came there from Chicago and has a bad record.

The sheriff's office is hot on the trail of the fugitive. His wife is at Woodside. She knew nothing aboot the thefts.

Two men were arrested by Game Warden Burke of Colma and brought to Redwood City yesterday. The condemning of the net will put a stop to the illegal fishing, for a time at least. Years ago there were large schools of bass in the bay but this illegal fishing has caused them to disappear.

The motion was much like that of a motorboat."

WIND PLAYED HAVOC WITH A LARGE BARN

D. P. Flynn, the popular county assessor, suffered a severe loss at the Selby ranch on Thursday. He rents a portion of the ranch on which is located a large barn built by the late Thomas H. Selby over forty years ago.

The big wind of Thursday blew down the structure and two hours afterwards a fire started which destroyed the old land mark. Several tons of hay were burned. A shed near by containing farming implements were also destroyed.

The loss will total $2000. The Menlo Park fire department was on the scene early and was unable to save several large oak trees that wore on fire. Workmen the day before started a brush fire and when the barn toppled it fell on the smouldering fire and the blaze started. Several oaks near-by caught from the burning building and would have been destroyed but for the efforts of the fire fighters.

SCHEME TO ROB BANK NIPPED EARLY

Early in the week there appeared at the Western Union Telegraph Company's office in San Francisco, a young man, of light complexion, apparently twenty-one years of age, probably five feet four inches in height, weightabout 135 pounds. He offered two telegrams for transmission to Redwood City, one addressed to the First National Bank of Redwood City, authorizing them to pay to Gilbert Goff, stopping at Hotel Sequoia, $500.00 and signed by the Crocker National Bank; the other telegram was addressed to Gilbert Goff, care of Hotel Sequoia, Redwood City, requesting him to call at the First National Bank and receive $500.00 and signed by the Crocker National Bank.

It seems the young man, who was asked to transmit these mesasges, knew that banks generally used cipher codes and he questioned the young man slightly regarding the telegrams and before he knew it, the young man was out of the building and off. The California Bankers' Association immediately informed the First National Bank of the circumstances, when they got in touch with the sheriff's office. Mr. Lampkin visited the Hotel Sequoia and found this young man Goff had stayed there Thursday and Friday, said he would be back. His plan was to get these telegrams off, then to take a train in a hurry, come to the hotel, obtain his telegram, present it at the bank and receive his money.

It is very questionable if he would have received the money, for the reason banks do not pay ordinarily excepting on cipher code telegrams. It is really too bad the telegraph operator did not send his messages and then make his inquiry later, and in that way the "would-be" thief, would have been caught in his act.

Mr. M. L. Benson, principal of the grammar schools of Hayward, with Mrs. Benson and their two children was in Redwood City last Sunday visiting friends.

Miss Behrens is a graduate in psychology from the Columbia University, New York, which is one of the few institutions in the country that graduates pupils in that branch and Miss Behrens is one of three persons in the United States who has such a diploma. She also has a teacher's certificate from that university but has never followed that profession preferring child welfare work. Miss Behrens is a talented young woman, clever and a thorough student. She likes New York and may return, she is however, delighted to be home and to be with her relatives and companions.

Miss Behrens' only regret is that she was not here to see the big football game last Saturday when her Alma Mater went down to defeat, the first time in a number of years. She attended all the former games at Stanford.

REDWOOD CITY HAS A BRIGHT FUTURE

No city on the peninsula has a brighter future than Redwood City, no place has better opportunities and no section has more natural advantages than the county seat of San Mateo county.

Its water front is soon to become active with several factories and shortly the whistle of the Pratt-Lowe Canning Company will be heard and through the activities of the Chamber of Commerce a municipal dock, the dream of the people of Redwood City for years, is soon to be realized.

With these new industries and the building of large warehouses at the proposed dock Redwood City is certain to forge ahead at a very rapid rate. Never in the history of Redwood City has the future looked so bright and encouraging for it. The aviation field is bringing hundreds here every week from all portions of the country who see great possibilities for this section. The local field no doubt is soon to become the terminal for astern airplanes that will bring hundreds of eastern people here who will be impressed with the surroundings. All these attractions are certain to make Redwood City the most populous city of the peninsula.

THE WORLD MOVES RAPIDLY

One of the striking evidences of the increased efficiency in present day methods over those of decades ago is brought to light in connection with the proposed decennial census for 1920. Although population is vastly greater today than in 1790 and the census figures are to cover a greater multitude of matters than in previous years, the census bureau expects to complete the enumeration in from two to four weeks and announce the population figures in less than three months from the date of ending the canvass. It required eighteen months to complete the enumeration work for the first decennial census in 1790.

WOULD AMEND CONSTITUTION BY POPULAR VOTE

Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey has introduced a resolution to amend the Constitution so as to provide for the ratification of Constitutional amendments by popular vote instead of by action of the State legislatures as now stipulated in that instrument. Other resolutions of a similar nature are now pending before the judiciary committee to which Mr. Frelinghuysen's measure has been referred, and it is possible that legislation of the sort will be attempted in the present Congress.

MEXICAN TREACHERY

President Carranza's son-in-law visited Mount Vernon and placed a wreath on Washington's tomb, then went to Europe and placed orders for large quantities of rifles, machine guns and ammunition for use against American forces in case the period of watchfulwaiting should end and a real effort be made to protect American lives in Mexico Steps are being taken to prevent the delivery of those arms, and it is hoped that the tomb has been relieved of the Carranza wreath.

ATTENTION, POLITICIANS

Although the American Legion is sworn to refrain from taking sides in the matter of politics, the delegates selected a political hot-bed when they voted for Indianapolis as the permanent headquarters. While the legion may not pay much attention to politics, politics must pay attention to the legion. It must not be forgotten hat the soldier vote can turn the tide in whatever direction it may choose.

WHAT GOOD DOES IT DO

It is difficult to imagine what good is accomplished by forcing an anarchist to kiss the flag. It does not make him one whit more loyal to the government—in fact it is likely to increase his feeling of antagonism to government. There would be more sense in refusing an anarchist the privilege of living under the flag whose government he defies.

THEIR GAIN OUR LOSS

After observing how generously the United States has been dealing with the allies, all the helpless nations of the earth would like to have this country accept mandatories over them. With that accomplished, their troubles would be at an end, and ours would begin.

ONE MAN OUTFIT

As McAdoo's sun goes down and Palmer's moon comes up, the Democratic party begins to think that after all it may be more than a one-man organization.

SOME CONSOLATION

America will have one consolation, as brought out in the treaty debate. If Carranza captures Texas we can summon Siam, Liberia and Hiati to come to our rescue.

CLARA M. MELENDY SUES FOR DIVORCE

Clara M. Melendy has brought an action in the superior court against her husband, L. E. Melendy for an interlocutory decree of divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty. They were married in San Francisco on July 5, 1911. They have no children and the community property consists of a parcel of land at South San Francisco which plaintiff asks to be awarded to her, she also asks for counsel fees and alimony.

SUES TO RECOVER BACK RENT

The Coast Improvement Company has brought an action in the superior court against Louis Maretti and others to recover the sum of $8354 balance due on rent for 1800 acres of land near San Mateo, known as "Brewers Island." The defendants leased the property in 1911 for a period of ten years agreeing to pay $2000 the first year, the rent increasing yearly until the last year when it would be $4500. On November first the defendants were in arrears to the amount sued for. E. F. Fitzpatrick and Archer Kincaid are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

SHE WALKED IN HER SLEEP AT ALHAMBRA TONIGHT

The various wanderings of a youthful and charming somnabulist serves as the basis upon which Mark Swan has founded the story of his new farce "She Walked in Her Sleep," to be given presentation at the Alhambra Theatre this evening, with Miss Norton-Paul Nicholson.

The locale of the story is a fashionable New York apartment hotel. The cogs in this swiftly moving piece of machinery are supplied by two young husbands but recently married their jealous wives, the owner of the valuable high explosive, the formula of which is lost and which must be analyzed, a young doctor and the fair somnambulist. This young woman is the daughter of the owner of the explosive and her propensity to wander in her sleep and purloin chance articles that she comes across while in this condition is said to supply any amount of good and wholesome fun. All of this may be easily guessed as she not only innocently filches her father's explosive from the scientist to whom it has been entrusted, but likewise places the young husbands under the jealous suspicion of their wives. This farce was highly praised during its long New York run as one of the happiest plays of its kind seen in a long while.

"She Walked in Her Sleep" has just closed at the Curran Theatre, San Francisco, after a very successful two weeks. It will be the second big attraction of Redwood theatre season.

SAN CARLOS NOTES

With the additional street lights which the Pacific Gas and Electric Company are now installing our little community will soon be made so Luminiferous after night fall that we will present the appearance of the Great White Way, or a magnificent little city.

These improvements are only one of the many that will be the result of the get-together spirit which has been brought about largely through the good offices of the officers and members of the San Carlos Community Club; and which has just been reorganized under most happy auspices as was manifest in the selection of officers for the coming year at the last regular meeting. After the adoption of the by-laws, which were unanimously approved with but few changes, as originally submitted, the following officers were elected: President, John E. Cowgill; first vice-president, Fred H. Drake; second vice-president, Fred T. Odgers; secretary, Miss May Quinn; treasurer, Asa E. Hull, an dthe members of the Committee on Committees were: Samuel E. Schooley, Geo. F. Walker and Mrs. Mary Heaney Johnson. As the provision in the by-laws providing for the election of a Committee on Committees has been one of the hobbies of the President elect for many years in connection with other organizations with which he has been associated, he was very pleased to have this particular section adopted, and more especially after it transpired that he was to be the presiding officer. This plan relieves the executive of all responsibility in the selection of the chairman for the various working and active committees, and precludes all possibility of any executive building what is known as a political machine within the organization whereby he might perpetuate himself in office to the injury of the community; and it also prevents any reason for unjust suspicion of favoritism upon the part of the President. The officers will be installed at the next regular meeting on the evening of the second Wednesday in December, the 10th. And as it is very possible that the ladies will have some hot dog and coffee for refreshments; and there are many important matters to come before the meeting we should have a large attendance of those who are ambitious to see our community advance and take its place among the rest o fthe peninsula cities. The Committee on Committees will meet at the school house next Tuesday evening for the purpose of organizing and the appointment of comimttees which will be announced at the next meeting of the club.

Miss Beatrice Juneau with her mother have moved into their little cosy bungalow on the corner of Chestnut and Cherry streets. The city of Juneau, Alaska, was named after Miss Juneau's grandfather.

Mrs. N. T. Smith in company with her niece, Mrs. Chas. Smith of Alhambra and her nephew ,Mr. Chas. A. Jones of Keen, N. H., returned from an extended visit of six months at her girlhood home near Hinsdale, N. H., last week. Mrs. Smith visited New York and many other places of interest during her long sojourn in the east.

Mrs. H. A. Gasper has returned home after several days' visit with friends and relatives in the metropolis.

With eight or ten additional bungalows and cottages in prospect for immediate construction Contractor Geo. B. Hollenbeck is contemplating the leasing of sufficient ground on the S. P. right-of-way near the spur track for the storing of building material as a branch to his Oakland yards, owing to the fact that he has experienced considerable difficulty in securing prompt service in car load shipments from his Oakland yards; and for this reason has given considerable patronage to the local lumber yards at both Redwood City and San Mateo. In the event Mr. Hollenbeck carries out his plans the railroad earnings on the large amount of material being used in the construction of the many homes here will accrue to the San Carlos station rather than to the agencies at San Mateo and Redwood City, from where it is brought into San Carlos by auto trucks.

Owing to the large influx of home builders and the consequent increase of patrons both to the post office and railroad station agent-postmaster Cowgill has asked for an extension of his office across one end of the large waiting room in order to have sufficient space to install a large number of lock boxes sufficient to accommodate both the patrons of the railroad as well as of the post office. As the office is now situated there is no space for additional boxes and many of the new residents are forced to have joint boxes with their neighbors or receive their mail per general delivery. Those having lock boxes are forced to come for their mail before 6:30 p. m. or wait until the next morning as the waiting room is locked at that hour and access to their boxes is cut off. While under the proposed extension there would be a large number of boxes installed at the rear of the office where they could be reached from the outside of the building. As it is very probable that the post office will remain in the station building for some years, owing to the great convenience to the large number of commuters to get their mail and daily papers before boarding trains and upon returning home and as the patrons of the post office are also patrons of the railroad company it would seem a reasonable request for them to make upon the company to provide them with suitable facilities for the receipt and dispatch of their mail.

CHARGED WITH BATTERY BUT WAS ACQUITTED

Frank L. Zug, charged with the crime of battery upon Frank Goularte at San Gregorio on September 27, was acquitted of the charge in the justice court Wednesday afternoon. The jury was out but ten minutees when it returned with the verdict.

The complaint against Zug was sworn to by Manuel Goularte, father of Frank Goularte. According to the testimony bad blood existed between the men for some weeks prior to the assault. On the night of September 27 the men with several companions met at San Gregorio when a fight between Zug and Goularte ensued. Goularte was badly beaten. He was an inmate of the Red Cross hospital for several days afterwards. Zug is an employe of C. H. Widemann and at the trial it was sought by the defense to inject the Coburn murder case into the proceedings. A large number of Pescadero people were present crowding the court. Much bitterness was displayed in the trial of the case. Albert Mansfield appeared for Zug. District Attorney Swart prosecuted the case.

MENLO PARK NEWS OF ALL SORTS

Doings at Peninsula Garden Spot As Told in Breezy Style By Our Reporters

One by one the old land marks are crumbling, the new is replacing the old and many industries that once flourished are now inactive owing to new inventions. The old blacksmith shop was given way to the garage and rapidly the horse is leaving the road to the automobile and who knows that the latter will soon give way to the airplane as a mode of travel? This week one of the Menlo Park's old land marks was removed and will now live in memory. It was the old Roach blacksmith shop that stood near the highway for over forty years. It was established by the late Richard Roach, a famous horse-shoer in his day. Under the wide-speading oak, the entrance to the shop were hitched the horses of millionaries awaiting their turn to be shod in the days when automobiles were unheard of. Mr. Roach's reputation as an expert horseshoer was known throughout the state and he had for his customers U. S. Senator Milton S. Latham, U. S. Senator Charles N. Felton, Mrs. Mark Hopkins, James L. Flood, John T. Doyle, Eugene Avy, P. W. Selby, Faxon Atherton, and numerous other wealthy residents of the peninsula. After his death his son, F. P. Roach conducted the business but the advent of the automobile soon drove the horse from his accustomed activities and some few years ago the famous shop was closed. When Camp Fremont was established here an addition was built to the front of the old shop and used as a temperate drink emporium. When the soldiers left the doors of the ancient structure were closed forever. The late Mrs. Kate Johnson many years ago left the property in trust for the Mary's Help hospital in San Francisco and during the week the trustees ordered the building wrecked. A wrecker from Redwood City has completed the job. The village blacksmith shop exists no longer. Who knows but a hangar will soon take its place?

The performance given in the Hall of the Nativity Wednesday evening was well attended considering the stormy weather. During the performance the electric lights went out several times owing to the high winds that played havoc with the wires and the performance was halted but this seemed to please the small boy who cheered lustily. "The First Thanksgiving Day" and "Our Heroes" by the pupils of St. Joseph's Parochial school in two parts were well received and heartily applauded. The boys and girls did well showing the result of their training and many rehearsals. The Lamb sisters of Redwood City made a big hit in their songs and monologues. Both young ladies are talented, having well-trained voices and are both actresses of ability. "The Schoolmaster" by a troupe from San Francisco was well received and heartily applauded. The music for the evening was furnished by several young men and women from Redwood City.

The beautiful Tobey home on Laurel avenue was sold this week to San Francisco parties who will take possession very soon. It is said the sum of $8000 was paid for the property. Mrs. Tobey and her daughter have been residing in the city for a number of years and the place has always been rented.

The big storm of Wednesday and Thursday did quite a bit of damage in this section. Many trees were blown down, fences were laid low and several small buildings thrown to the ground. The cupola on the Maloney building on the corner of Oak Grove avenue and the highway fell and dropped through the porch of the building. Luckily no one was passing at the time, thus serious casualty was averted.

There was a big gathering of the alumni of St. Patrick's Seminary on November 21. Archbishop E. J. Hanna and the three newly appointed Signori and other noted prelates were present. Former students from all parts of the coast were present. It was a happy reunion of former pupils and their teachers.

Santa Claus this year is going to make his headquarters at Fred Nessler's. Already a splendid display of holiday goods are on exhibition which is the envy of all the little boys and girls.

The Rev. J. M. Caldwell of Menlo Park, has resigned as pastor of the Presbyterian church to accept a call from the Presbyterian church of Nelson, Neb. He left yesterday for the east to enter upon the new work. He spoke very highly of his treatment by the small congregation in Menlo Park, but feels that his work in the much larger field in the east will be much more beneficial to the church and pastor. The Rev. Caldwell is in his eightieth year.

Membership in the Menlo Park Golf Club is now open to Stanford men and a meeting held Tuesday at Encina gymnasium they received their membership cards. Twenty or more men have asked the privilege of joining and from these five will be chosen to represent Stanford in a contest with California on December 6.

Mrs. Adaline Ford, wife of Captain Ford of the British army, has come to California from London and has leased the Bennett house in Menlo Park. With her is her mother, Mrs. M. L. Hillhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Breeden and their five pretty children left last Saturday to reside in San Francisco. They have closed their attractive home at Atherton. The Breedens carry with them the best wishes of the people of Menlo for their success in the city. Allan Breeden will continue his studies at St. Joseph's parochial school as he graduates next May. Mrs. Henry East, a neighbor of the Breedens entertained a few friends informally for Mrs. Breeden on Friday last. Among the guests were Mrs. Bernard Breeden, Mrs. R. E. Miller of Atherton, her niece, Miss Ethel Cowperthwaite, and her house guest, Miss Gladys Krogness of Minneapolis; Mrs. Milfred Schord, Mrs. William R. Cluness, and Mrs. David Elms Graham. Miss Cowperthwaite, who is the possessor of a cultivated soprano voice, sang during the afternoon, and Miss Krogness gave several delightful vocal and piano numbers.

"She Walked in Her Sleep" a farce-comedy will be presented in the Alhambra theatre, Redwood City, this evening by a company from the Curran theatre, San Francisco. It is a high-class aggregation of performers. Take the bus and have a good laugh.

But modern inventions have given you comforts and conveniences that the Romans never even dreamed of.

The greatest of all these is electricity that gives light, bauty, comfort, time and does aay ith unnecessary labor.

No matter what kind of a new home or building you are planning, first of all discuss with your architect or electrical engineer the comforts and conveniences you can insure for the future by providing sufficient wiring and proper outlets at the time of building.

Baseboard and wall outlets, carefully placed by experienced home planners, provide much comfort and service for labor saving electrical appliances.
